BY: Amy Norris, Public Information Coordinator

No water contact recommended at Park Point Beach House area.

Water contact is not recommended at the Park Point Beach House beach due to a high bacteria count. The Minnesota Department of Health tested the water on Wednesday, August 15th and found the water to have a high bacteria count thus recommending the public to not have water contact. The water will be tested again on August 27th to see if it has returned to normal levels. For real-time weather and beach conditions go to parkpointbeach.org
